

Keepers of the Mageia

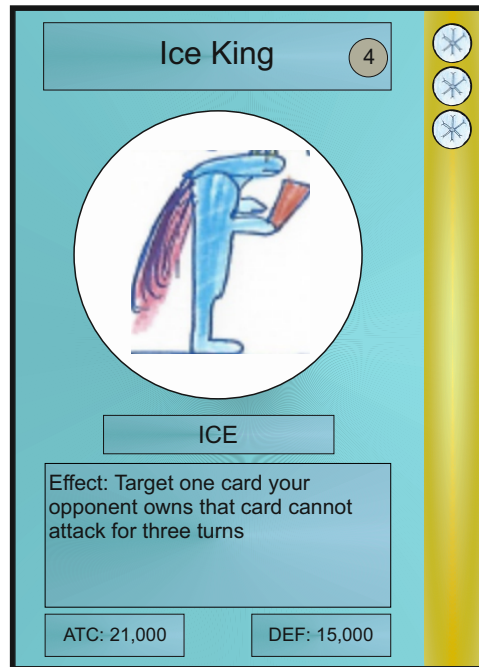

Welcome

Welcome to Keepers of the Mageia this rule book will teach you the rules to the game.

What you will need: All you need is a 30-60 card deck, General card and its corresponding general upgrade card

General upgrade

General

How to win: To win you need to destroy your opponents general.

Reading a card

Name

Flame Lord

18

Orbs

Element

Flame

Effect

Effect: Increase all Flame Warrior cards ATC and DEF by 8,000.

ATC: 11,000

DEF: 6,000

2026 Toby Beesley. Illustrated: Toby Beesley.

Attack

Defence

Summoning

Orbs are a currency, every Orb has to be of a certain element, if you gain a non specified orb, you choose which element it becomes.

Every card has a orb cost, each orb on the right of the card shows how many orbs it cost, if you want to summon a card, you have to pay its cost, by subtracting total orbs from the cost of the card. You have to pay the cost with the correct element orb.

At the start of every turn you gain one non-specified orb.

On your general upgrade, there are a list on the right, each has a task, if you complete it then you gain the specified orbs. The orbs are always the same element as the general.

The Field

There are 3 zones, as shown by this diagram
When summoning a card, you can chose to summon it in either the offensive or defensive zone.

The diagram illustrates the three zones of 'The Field'. It consists of three rectangular boxes arranged vertically. The top box is labeled 'Offensive zone', the middle box is labeled 'Defensive zone', and the bottom box is labeled 'General'. The boxes are separated by gaps, and the 'General' box is significantly smaller than the other two.

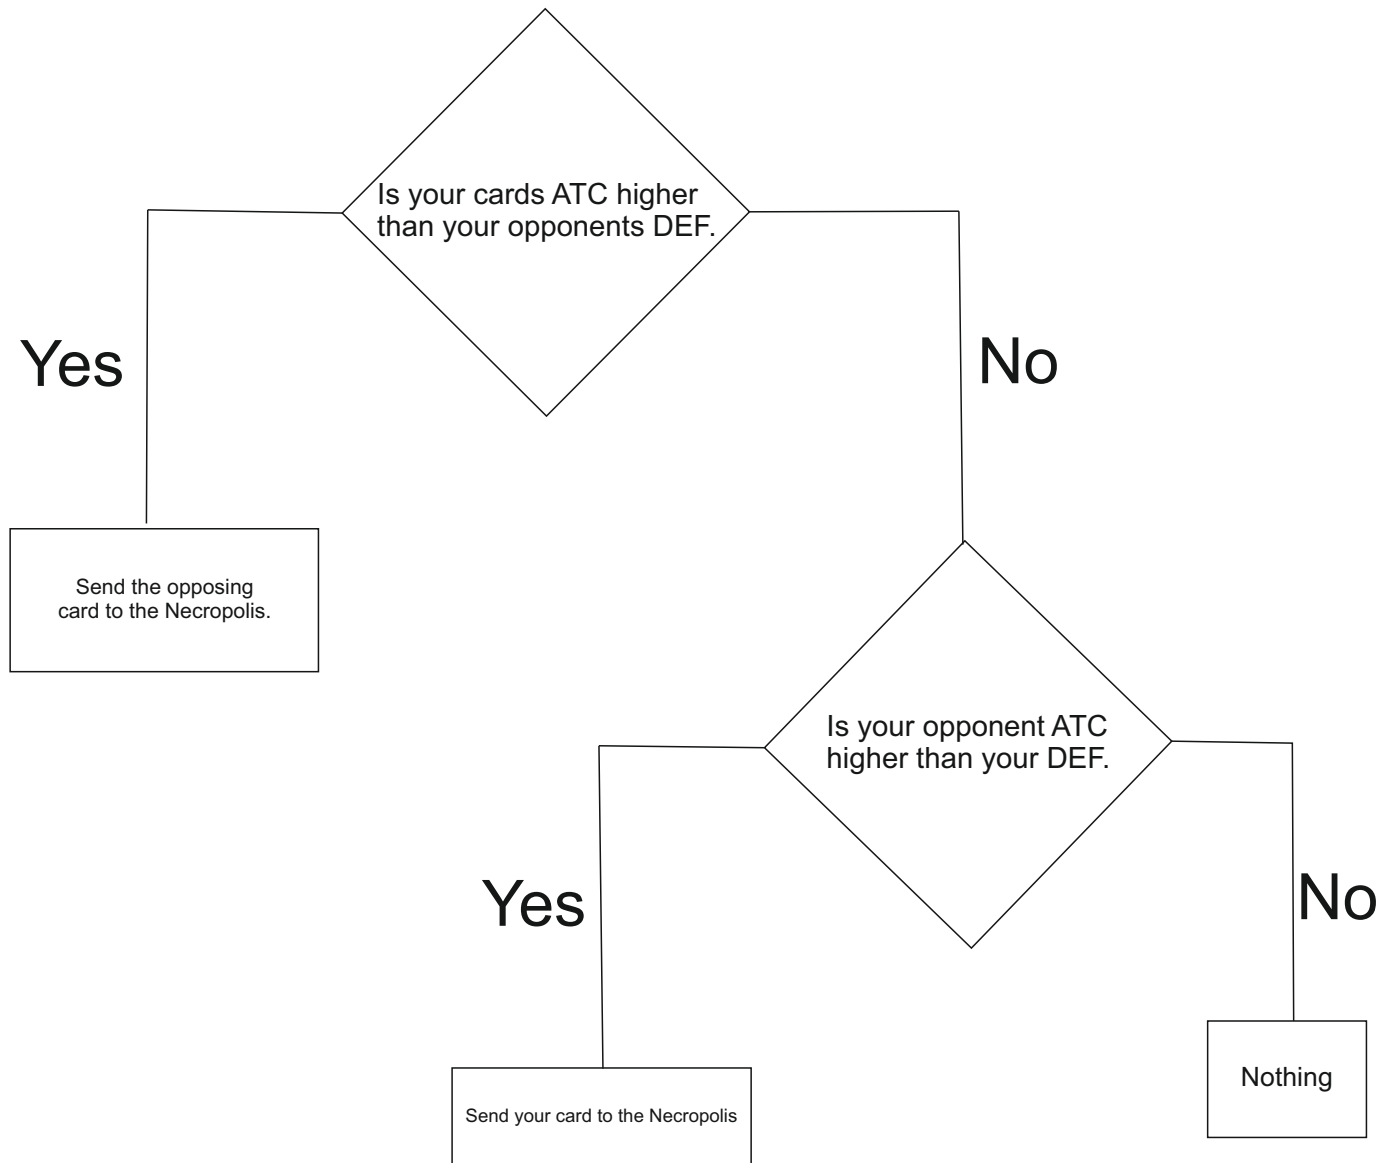

Offensive zone

Defensive zone

General

Attacking

If you have a card on the field you can target one card to attack, follow this flow chart.

Stages

When a card attacks a general it goes down a stage, which activates the effect of the stage, which is specified on the card. You can only take a general two stages every turn.

Stage

Both players have to have equal or less cards in there offensive zone than defensive zone.
Stage 4: Return one card on your opponents side of the field to your hand. Stage 3: Move one card to a different zone. Stage 2: - Stage 1: All cards in the offensive zone go to the defensive zone. All cards in the defensive zone go to the offensive zone.	1 Orb: Have 2 Water Warriors or 1 Water Dragon. 2 Orb: If one card has moved zones gain the orbs. 2 Orb: You have no cards on the field, when you started with five or more.
Water King 33

Key Terms

Necropolis: When a card is destroyed or discarded it goes there, the discard pile.

Poison: If a card has the poison effect, when it attacks or is attacked, the other card loses 2,000 DEF X the poison cards Orb Cost. If there is a Xx then multiply this result by that number.

Power up: A card with the power up ability can be placed under another card, if its cost is payed the cards ATC and DEF is added onto the power up card.

Faction: If a card has a faction, if a card names that faction it is effected that card. e.g Chief Of The Forest allows any forest warrior to gain poison, Knight Of The Forest would gain poison.

Tokens: When a card says it plays a token, use anything to show this creature. Follow the effect from the card to tell you the rules for the card.

Snap: You can use these cards to play snap. To play snap shuffle your deck, then each player takes turns drawing a card and placing it on the pile, if the images are the same from the last card then the first player to say snap and place there hand on the pile, they win those cards, continue till all cards are claimed and then the person with the most cards win.

You can play with four players by dividing into two teams, first team to lose a general loses.